

Biography: Emanuella

A standout in the crowd, Emanuella is a Pop and RnB singer/songwriter unafraid to go beyond her comfort zone, by incorporating Greek and Colombian influences. Inspired by bold idols such as the likes of Aretha Franklin and Alicia Keys, she carries her admiration of their eccentricity and uses it to perform every show so powerfully, the audience can't help but watch.

She has since performed in intimate settings such as bars (Live On Elgin) and restaurants (La Favorita) to grand national stages including her live broadcasted performance at Ottawa City Hall, her two-time gold-winning performances at the National Canada MusicFest in Toronto and Ottawa, her headliner performance at Canada Day at Walter Baker Park, and Western University's OWeek where she was hand-picked for the closing performance.

For over ten years Emanuella has been studying and training to perfect every aspect of her artistry with accomplished performer, producer, musician, and mentor Rob Clarot at The Ottawa Vocal & Instrumental Performance Academy. It is through this period that she fostered her uncompromising passion to venture into the music industry. Currently, she is attending Western University's Popular Music Studies program, investing in her brand, and expanding her songwriting skills.
